6	Who was not the founding member of the Muslim League in 1906? (A) Nawab Salimullah (B) Aga Khan (C) Mohsin-Ul-Mulk (D) M.A. Jinnah	D) M.A. Jinnah	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	The All-India Muslim League was founded at Dacca in December 1906 under the leadership of Nawab Salimullah of Dacca, with the Aga Khan (Sultan Muhammad Shah) as its first president and Mohsin-Ul-Mulk (Nawab Mehdi Ali Khan) as a key organiser, building on the groundwork laid by Sir Syed Ahmed Khan's Aligarh movement. Muhammad Ali Jinnah was not a founding member; at that time he was closely associated with the Indian National Congress and was in fact critical of the separatist, communal politics represented by the League's formation. Jinnah joined the League only later, in 1913, eventually rising to lead it in subsequent decades. Hence the answer is (D) M.A. Jinnah. 7	Reason and Assertion Type. Assertion [A] : On April 8, 1929 C.E. revolutionaries Bhagat Singh and Batukeshwar Dutt threw bombs into the Central Legislative Assembly. Reason [R] : Bhaghat Singh and B.K. Dutt were against the passage of the Public Safety Bill and the Trade Disputes Bill. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A]	B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A]	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	On 8 April 1929, Bhagat Singh and Batukeshwar Dutt, members of the Hindustan Socialist Republican Association, threw two low-intensity bombs and leaflets into the Central Legislative Assembly in Delhi, shouted 'Inquilab Zindabad', and then courted arrest rather than fleeing. Their leaflets explained that the act was a protest against the government's push to enact the repressive Public Safety Bill (giving the state sweeping powers to deport agitators) and the Trade Disputes Bill (curtailing workers' right to strike), both seen as attacks on civil liberties and the labour movement. Since this is precisely why they acted, [R] genuinely explains [A], making option

	(C) [A] is false and [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]			(B) correct. Source: Class 12 History, Unit 5 "Period of Radicalism in Anti-imperialist Struggles" and Class 10 History, Unit 8 "Nationalism: Gandhian Phase"
8	Arrange the following events in chronological order : (1) The Arya Samaj (2) Ramakrishna Mission (3) Brahmo Samaj (4) Prarthana Samaj (A) (1), (2), (3), (4) (B) (3), (1), (2), (4) (C) (3), (4), (1), (2) (D) (4), (3), (2), (1)	C) (3), (4), (1), (2)	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	These are landmark socio-religious reform movements of 19th century India. The Brahmo Samaj was founded by Raja Ram Mohan Roy in Calcutta in 1828, the earliest of the four. The Prarthana Samaj, inspired by Brahmo ideals, was founded in Bombay in 1867 by Atmaram Pandurang. The Arya Samaj was founded by Swami Dayananda Saraswati in Bombay in 1875, calling for a return to Vedic principles. The Ramakrishna Mission was founded last, in 1897, by Swami Vivekananda in memory of his guru Ramakrishna Paramahansa, combining spiritual teaching with social service. The correct order is Brahmo Samaj (1828) -> Prarthana Samaj (1867) -> Arya Samaj (1875) -> Ramakrishna Mission (1897), i.e. (3), (4), (1), (2), option (C). 9	Assertion [A] : A medieval Historian Zia-ud-din Barani encouraged the inclusion of Neo-Muslims into Aristocracy. Reason [R] : Balban's son Prince Muhammed valued knowledge and talent than noble-birth. (A) [A] is true, but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false and [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	C) [A] is false and [R] is true	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Ziauddin Barani, the medieval chronicler of the Delhi Sultanate (author of Tarikh-i-Firoz Shahi), held strongly conservative, aristocratic views on governance. Far from encouraging low-born converts ('neo-Muslims') to rise into the nobility, he explicitly argued that high administrative and court positions should be reserved for persons of noble birth (the Ashraf) and opposed low-born people entering aristocratic circles -- so [A] is false. Barani does, however, record that Balban's son, Prince Muhammad, governor of Multan and a patron of scholars including the poet Amir Khusrau, valued learning and talent over lineage -- so [R] is a true, independent historical fact. Since [A] is false while [R] is true, the correct choice is (C). Source: Class 11 History, Unit 10 "Advent of Arabs and Turks"

11	University of Madras was started based on whose report? (A) Lord Ripon (B) Sir Charles Wood (C) William Bentick (D) Norton	B) Sir Charles Wood	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	The Universities of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras were all established in 1857 as a direct result of the recommendations in Sir Charles Wood's Education Despatch of 1854, often called the 'Magna Carta of English Education in India'. The despatch, issued while Wood was President of the Board of Control, called for universities modelled on the University of London to organise and examine higher education across the Presidencies, and the University of Madras was duly established under this scheme in 1857. Hence the answer is (B) Sir Charles Wood. Source: Class 11 History, Unit 17 "Effects of British Rule"
40	Which of the following statements are true about the salient features of Gupta sculpture? (i) The statues of the Gupta period had curly hair. (ii) The Gupta sculptures had foreign influences. (iii) The aim of the Gupta sculpture was to represent the spiritual ideas. (A) (ii) only (B) (i) and (ii) only (C) (i) and (iii) only (D) (ii) and (iii) only	C) (i) and (iii) only	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Gupta-period Buddha and other images (as at Sarnath and Mathura) are stylistically noted for their schematic rows of small curls covering the head, a distinctive feature that marks Gupta iconography, so (i) is true. Gupta art is celebrated precisely for having shed the earlier Gandhara school's Greco-Roman/foreign stylistic influence and evolved into a mature, indigenous classical Indian idiom, so calling it 'foreign influenced' (ii) is incorrect. The sculptors of this 'Golden Age' deliberately aimed to convey inner serenity and spiritual/religious ideals through calm expressions and refined form rather than mere physical realism, making (iii) true. Hence (i) and (iii) only are correct. Source: Class 11 History, Unit 7 "The Guptas"
55	Match the following : (a) Veerashaivism (b) Visistadvaitam (c) Thuvaitham (d) Advaitam 1. Ramanujar 2. Kumarila Bhatta	A) (a)-3, (b)-1, (c)-4, (d)-2	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Veerashaivism (Lingayatism) was founded by Basava (Basavar) in 12th-century Karnataka, who preached devotion to Shiva and social equality. Visistadvaitam (Qualified Non-dualism) was propounded by Ramanuja (Ramanujar), who held that the individual soul and Brahman are related but distinct. Thuvaitham (Dvaita, or dualism) was founded by Madhvacharya (Mathuvar), who taught that God, soul and matter are eternally separate. By elimination, Advaitam (Non-dualism, usually

	3. Basavar 4. Mathuvar (A) (a)-3, (b)-1, (c)-4, (d)-2 (B) (a)-3, (b)-2, (c)-1, (d)-4 (C) (a)-1, (b)-3, (c)-2, (d)-4 (D) (a)-4, (b)-1, (c)-3, (d)-2			associated with Adi Shankara) is paired here with Kumarila Bhatta, the Mimamsa philosopher, as the remaining option. This gives the sequence a-3, b-1, c-4, d-2, matching option (A). 56	Choose the right matches among the following. (1) Champaran Satyagraha - Financial Troubles (2) Ahmedabad Satyagraha - Mill Strike (3) Kheda Satyagraha - Peasants (4) Bardoli Satyagraha - Indigo planters (A) (1) and (3) are correct (B) (1) and (2) are correct (C) (2) and (3) are correct (D) (3) and (4) are correct	C) (2) and (3) are correct	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	The Ahmedabad Satyagraha (1918) was Gandhi's intervention in a mill workers' wage dispute, correctly paired with 'Mill Strike'. The Kheda Satyagraha (1918) was a no-tax campaign by peasants facing crop failure and famine, correctly paired with 'Peasants'. However, the Champaran Satyagraha (1917) was actually about the exploitation of indigo cultivators under the 'tinkathia' system - so it should be paired with 'Indigo planters', not 'Financial Troubles', making pair (1) wrong. Similarly, the Bardoli Satyagraha (1928), led by Vallabhbhai Patel, was a no-tax movement by peasants protesting a steep hike in land revenue, not an indigo-planters' issue, so pair (4) is also wrong. Hence only (2) and (3) are correctly matched, option (C). Source: Class 12 History, Unit 4 "Advent of Gandhi and Mass Mobilisation"
57	Reason and Assertion Type. Assertion [A] : Dr. Ambedkar observed that the rise of Buddhism was as significant as the French revolution. Reason [R] : Dr. Ambedkar delivered a speech at Colombo, Srilanka on "The Rise and fall of Buddhism in India". (A) [A] is true; but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false and [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is	B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A]	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, in his well-known 1950 address delivered at Colombo, Sri Lanka, titled 'The Rise and Fall of Buddhism in India', compared the ideals of liberty, equality and fraternity unleashed by the French Revolution to the earlier social revolution brought about by the Buddha's teachings in ancient India, arguing Buddhism's rise was of comparable historical significance. Since it was precisely in this Colombo speech that Ambedkar made this comparison, the Reason correctly and specifically explains the Assertion, making both statements true with [R] being the correct explanation of [A] - option (B).

58	Why was Subhas Chandra Bose called as Netaji? (i) Encourage Indians for Education. (ii) Strong Leadership and dedication to the cause of India's Freedom. (iii) To follow the principle of Ahimsa. (A) (i) and (ii) only (B) (i) only (C) (ii) and (iii) only (D) (ii) only	D) (ii) only	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Subhas Chandra Bose earned the honorific 'Netaji' (meaning 'respected leader') primarily because of his forceful, charismatic leadership of the Indian National Army (INA/Azad Hind Fauj) and his unwavering dedication to achieving India's complete independence through militant means. He was not associated with promoting formal education (i), and he explicitly rejected Gandhian non-violence, believing armed struggle was necessary to overthrow British rule, so 'following the principle of Ahimsa' (iii) is factually wrong. Hence only statement (ii) explains the title, option (D). Source: Class 12 History, Unit 7 "Last Phase of Indian National Movement"
59	Which of the following correctly correspond to the reasons for the decline of the Mughal Empire? (i) Invasion of Nadir Shah and Ahmed Shah Abdali. (ii) Weak rulers after Aurangzeb. (iii) Changed character of Later Mughal Nobility. (iv) Frequent famines. (A) (i) and (ii) only (B) (i), (ii) and (iii) only (C) (i), (ii) and (iv) only (D) (i) and (iii) only	B) (i), (ii) and (iii) only	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Historians commonly attribute the decline of the Mughal Empire after Aurangzeb's death (1707) to a succession of weak and incompetent rulers unable to control the vast empire (ii), the degeneration of the Mughal nobility into rival factions pursuing personal power rather than the empire's interests (iii), and devastating foreign invasions such as those of Nadir Shah (1739) and Ahmed Shah Abdali (mid-18th century), which plundered Delhi and exposed Mughal military weakness (i). While economic strain existed, 'frequent famines' is not conventionally listed among the standard textbook causes of Mughal decline, so the correct combination is (i), (ii) and (iii) only, option (B). 81	Assertion [A] : Social reform movements encouraged women's education. Reason [R] : Educated women were considered essential for social progress.	B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A]	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Nineteenth and early twentieth century social reform movements in India - led by figures such as Raja Ram Mohan Roy, Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar, Jyotirao Phule, and later reformers in the Self-Respect and nationalist

	(A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false, [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]			movements - actively promoted women's education as part of their broader campaign against social evils like child marriage, purdah, and caste discrimination. Assertion [A] is therefore true. The Reason [R] is also true and directly explains [A]: reformers believed an educated female population was indispensable for raising healthy families, spreading rational thought, and driving overall social and national progress, which is precisely why they pushed for women's schooling. Since [R] genuinely explains why [A] occurred, option (B) is correct. Source: Class 10 Social Science, History Unit 5 "Social and Religious Reform Movements in the 19th Century"
104	Assertion [A] : Subash Chandra Bose believed in war and violence for the liberation of India. Reason [R] : He subscribed to the Gandhian Principles of Non-violence. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true ; and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false, [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	A) [A] is true but [R] is false	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Subhas Chandra Bose broke away from the Indian National Congress precisely because he rejected Gandhi's strategy of non-violent non-cooperation; he believed that only an armed struggle could dislodge British rule, and he went on to lead the Indian National Army (Azad Hind Fauj) with the slogan 'Give me blood, and I shall give you freedom' - so Assertion [A] is true. Reason [R], which claims he subscribed to the Gandhian principle of non-violence, is factually false, since Bose explicitly disagreed with Gandhi on this very question and sought Axis support during World War II to wage war against the British. This makes option (A) correct. Source: Class 10 Social Science, History Unit 8 "Nationalism: Gandhian Phase" and Class 12 History, Unit 7 "Last Phase of Indian National Movement"
106	Which one of the following pairs is correctly matched? (i) Lord Cornwallis - Subsidiary Alliance (ii) Lord Dalhousie - Permanent Settlement of Bengal (iii) Lord Lytton - Doctrine of Lapse (iv) Lord Curzon - Partition of Bengal (A) (i) only	B) (iv) only	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Each pairing here needs to be checked against its actual architect: the Subsidiary Alliance system was devised by Lord Wellesley, not Cornwallis; the Permanent Settlement of Bengal (1793) was introduced by Lord Cornwallis, not Dalhousie; and the Doctrine of Lapse, used to annex princely states without natural heirs, was Lord Dalhousie's policy, not Lytton's. Only pairing (iv) is correct: Lord Curzon partitioned the province of Bengal in 1905 along communal lines, ostensibly for administrative

	(B) (iv) only (C) (i) and (iii) only (D) (ii) and (iii) only			convenience but actually to weaken the nationalist movement, which triggered the Swadeshi movement. Hence only (iv) is correctly matched, option (B). Source: Class 11 History, Unit 17 "Effects of British Rule" and Class 12 History, Unit 2 "Rise of Extremism and Swadeshi Movement"
107	Reason and Assertion type : Assertion [A] : The Qadiriya order of Sufism had been popularised in the Punjab by Sheik Kalimullah. Reason [R] : The Qadiriya order of Sufism strongly supported the doctrine of Wahdat-al-Wajud (Unity of being). (A) [A] is true, but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false and [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	C) [A] is false and [R] is true	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Shaikh Kalimullah Jahanabadi was actually a leading figure of the Chishti Sufi order in Delhi (credited with reviving the Chishti silsila in the 17th-18th century), not the Qadiriya order, so Assertion [A] incorrectly attributes the popularisation of Qadiriya in Punjab to him and is false. The Qadiriya order, founded by Sheikh Abdul Qadir Jilani, did indeed uphold the philosophical doctrine of Wahdat-al-Wajud ('Unity of Being', the idea that all existence is a manifestation of one divine reality), so Reason [R] is a true and independently valid statement about Qadiriya beliefs. Since [A] is false while [R] is true, option (C) is correct.
108	Assertion [A] : India conducted Operation Blue Star in May 2025. Reason [R] : Pakistan - backed terror attack was launched in Pahalgam, and 26 innocent civilians were killed. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true; and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false but [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	C) [A] is false but [R] is true	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	In April 2025 a Pakistan-backed terrorist attack at Pahalgam in Jammu and Kashmir killed 26 civilians, mostly tourists - this part, Reason [R], is factually correct. In response, India launched precision military strikes on terror infrastructure in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir in May 2025 under the codename 'Operation Sindoor', not 'Operation Blue Star' (which was the 1984 Indian Army operation against militants inside the Golden Temple, Amritsar, an entirely different and unrelated historical event). Since Assertion [A] names the wrong operation, it is false, while the underlying trigger described in [R] is true, making option (C) correct.
135	Among the following Congress Leaders who stated that "servants of people society was in reality a Hindu Reform	B) Lala Lajpat Rai	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National	Gopal Krishna Gokhale founded the Servants of India Society in 1905 to train dedicated workers for public service, focusing on causes like primary and female Movement"? (A) Madan Mohan Malviya (B) Lala Lajpat Rai (C) Bal Gangadhar Tilak (D) Gopala Krishna Gokhale		Movement	education and upliftment of depressed classes. Some contemporary Congress leaders felt that, in practice, the Society's programme overlapped heavily with Hindu social-reform concerns rather than a broadly national, inter-communal agenda, and Lala Lajpat Rai - himself associated with Arya Samaj reform ideas and later a Hindu Mahasabha leader - is credited with this critique. The question is a factual attribution rather than a derivable fact, so the answer is given with some reservation; option (B) is the best-supported choice.

138	Arranging Chronological Order/Event Type : (1) The Madras Hindu Widow Marriage Association. (2) The Hindu Women's Remarriage Association. (3) Widow Remarriage Act XV. (4) Widow Remarriage Society. (A) (1), (2), (3), (4) (B) (3), (4), (1), (2) (C) (4), (3), (2), (1) (D) (2), (3), (1), (4)	C) (4), (3), (2), (1)	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar organised a 'Widow Remarriage Society' in Calcutta in the early 1850s to campaign for legalising the remarriage of Hindu widows, and this agitation directly led to the enactment of the Hindu Widows' Remarriage Act (Act XV of 1856), which legally permitted such marriages. In the following decades, associations were formed in different regions to actually facilitate remarriages under the new law, such as the Hindu Widows' Remarriage Association, followed later by region-specific bodies like the Madras Hindu Widow Marriage Association in the Madras Presidency. This sequence - Society, then Act, then the general Association, then the Madras-specific one - gives (4), (3), (2), (1), option (C); precise founding years for the two named 'Associations' are not independently documented, so this ordering rests on general historical reasoning about the movement's progression. 143	Reason and Assertion type : Assertion [A] : The increase in the consumption of Iron caused an increase in the iron production leading to the development of manufacturing industry which rose to the next level. Reason [R] : This led to the emergence of	C) [A] is true, [R] is true	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Historians of the Iron Age note that rising demand for iron tools and weapons increased iron smelting and production, which in turn fed the growth of craft and manufacturing activity - this is the accepted historical process described in [A], making it true. This economic transformation is also linked to greater social stratification and the rise of more complex political structures, with various groups in the structure of society and the formation of states such as Kings, Vassals and Governors. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) [A] is false, [R] is true (C) [A] is true, [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A] is correct.			rulers, feudatories (vassals) and administrators/governors emerging to manage larger, more organised states - the process described in [R], which is also true. Since the growth of social groups and state structures is presented as the direct continuation/outcome of the industrial growth described in the Assertion, [R] logically explains [A], supporting option (C). 156	Match the following : (a) Non-Cooperation movement (b) Simon Commission (c) Salt Satyagraha (d) Quit India movement 1. 1930 2. 1942 3. 1928 4. 1920 (A) (a)-3 (b)-2 (c)-4 (d)-1 (B) (a)-2 (b)-1 (c)-4 (d)-3 (C) (a)-3 (b)-1 (c)-2 (d)-4 (D) (a)-4 (b)-3 (c)-1 (d)-2	D) (a)-4 (b)-3 (c)-1 (d)-2 i.e. Non-Cooperation movement-1920, Simon Commission-1928, Salt Satyagraha-1930, Quit India movement-1942	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	The Non-Cooperation Movement was launched by Gandhi in 1920 after the Khilafat and Jallianwala Bagh outrages, urging Indians to boycott British institutions. The all-British Simon Commission, appointed to review constitutional reforms, arrived in India in 1928 and was met with the famous 'Simon Go Back' protests. The Salt Satyagraha (Dandi March) began in March 1930 as the opening act of the Civil Disobedience Movement, and the Quit India Movement was launched in August 1942 demanding immediate British withdrawal. This gives the sequence a-1920, b-1928, c-1930, d-1942, matching option (D). Source: Class 10 Social Science, History Unit 8 "Nationalism: Gandhian Phase"

157	Which of the following is correctly paired? (1) 1964 - National Gallery of Modern Art (NGMA) (2) 1971 - National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) (3) 1972 - Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR) (4) 2007 - National Mission on Monuments and Antiquities (NMMA)	D) (3) and (4) are correct	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	The Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR) was established in 1972 to promote objective and scientific writing of history, and the National Mission on Monuments and Antiquities (NMMA) was launched in 2007 by the Archaeological Survey of India to create a national database of monuments and antiquities - both pairings are correct. The National Gallery of Modern Art (NGMA), however, was actually established in New Delhi in 1954, not 1964, and the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) was set up in 1961, not 1971, so pairs (1) and (2) are wrong. Hence only (3) and (4)

	(A) Only (3) is correct (B) (1) and (2) are correct (C) Only (4) is correct (D) (3) and (4) are correct			are correctly paired, making option (D) correct.
158	Assertion [A] : The Indian National Union was renamed as Indian National Congress. Reason [R] : Lord Reay was elected as the first President of the Indian National Congress. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] & [R] are true, and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false, [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	A) [A] is true but [R] is false	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	The body that eventually met in Bombay in December 1885 was initially planned to be called the Indian National Union but was renamed the Indian National Congress before its first session, so the Assertion is true. However, its first President was Womesh Chandra Bonnerjee, not Lord Reay; Lord Reay was the then Governor of Bombay, and although the session was held with the Governor's tacit approval, he was never elected President of the Congress, making the Reason false. Therefore option (A) - Assertion true, Reason false - is correct. Source: Class 12 History, Unit 1 "Rise of Nationalism in India"
159	Assertion [A] : Allasani Peddana was a renowned poet in the imperial court of Krishnadeva Raya. Reason [R] : He used to mix Telugu words and Sanskrit words in his poems. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) [A] is false but [R] is true (C) Both [A] and [R] are true but [R] is the correct reasoning for [A] (D) Both [A] and [R] are true but [R] is not the correct reasoning for [A]	D) Both [A] and [R] are true but [R] is not the correct reasoning for [A]	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Allasani Peddana was indeed a renowned Telugu poet in the Vijayanagara court of Krishnadevaraya, honoured as the foremost of the Ashtadiggajas (eight literary giants) and given the title Andhra Kavita Pitamaha (father of Telugu poetry) for his epic work Manucharitramu, so the Assertion is true. It is also true that he blended Sanskrit vocabulary and metre into his Telugu verse, a stylistic feature of the Prabandha literary form he pioneered, so the Reason is factually correct too. However, this linguistic blending was not the actual reason he was renowned in the imperial court - his prominence rested on his poetic genius, royal patronage and leadership among the court poets - so the Reason, while true, is not the correct explanation of the Assertion, making option (D) correct. 160	Choose the wrong matches : (1) King of Coin Reform - Muhammad	D) (3) and (4)	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and	Muhammad bin Tughlaq is well known as the 'King of Coin Reform' for his (failed) token currency experiment,

	Bin Tughlaq (2) Akbar of Delhi Sultanate - Firuzshah Tughlaq (3) Diwan-i-Kohi - Alauddin Khalji (4) Quwwat-ul-Islam Mosque - Iltutmish (A) (1) and (2) (B) (1) and (4) (C) (2) and (3) (D) (3) and (4)		Indian National Movement	and Firoz Shah Tughlaq is often called the 'Akbar of the Delhi Sultanate' for his extensive welfare works, canal-building and humane administrative reforms, so pairs (1) and (2) are correctly matched. The Diwan-i-Kohi, however, was an agricultural department created by Muhammad bin Tughlaq to promote cultivation, not by Alauddin Khalji, making pair (3) wrong; and the Quwwat-ul-Islam Mosque in Delhi was originally built by Qutb-ud-din Aibak (with Iltutmish only later enlarging it), so attributing it solely to Iltutmish makes pair (4) wrong too. Hence the wrong matches are (3) and (4), option (D). Source: Class 11 History, Unit 10 "Advent of Arabs and Turks" and Class 7 Social Science, History Term 1 Unit 4 "The Delhi Sultanate"
161	Choose the right matches : (1) Arctic Home of the Aryans - Balagangathara Thilagar (2) Divine Right Theory - B.V. Kane (3) Harivamsa - Kiratas (4) Gana - Republic (A) (1) and (2) are correct (B) (1) and (4) are correct (C) (2) and (3) are correct (D) (3) and (4) are correct	B) (1) and (4) are correct	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Bal Gangadhar Tilak authored The Arctic Home in the Vedas (1903), arguing that the Vedic Aryans originally lived in the Arctic region, so pair (1) is correctly matched. In ancient Indian polity, the term Gana referred to a non-monarchical, republican form of government (as in the Vajji and Lichchhavi ganasanghas), so 'Gana - Republic' (4) is also correctly matched. The Divine Right Theory of kingship is a general political concept (not linked to the Sanskrit scholar P.V. Kane, who is known instead for his monumental History of Dharmashastra), and the Harivamsa (an appendix to the Mahabharata on Krishna's genealogy) is not specifically about the Kirata tribes, so pairs (2) and (3) are incorrect. Hence option (B) is correct. Source: Class 11 History, Unit 3 "Rise of Territorial Kingdoms and New Religious Sects"
191	Match correctly the Authors with their Work : (a) Sudarka (b) Amar Singh (c) Dandin (d) Visakhadatta	B) (a)-3 (b)-4 (c)-2 (d)-1	Unit III - History, Culture of India, and Indian National Movement	Shudraka (rendered here as "Sudarka") is the ancient Sanskrit playwright credited with the drama "Mrichchhakatika" (The Little Clay Cart), a celebrated Sanskrit play depicting love across social classes. Amarasimha ("Amar Singh"), a Sanskrit lexicographer of the Gupta period, compiled the "Amarakosha", the most famous Sanskrit thesaurus/lexicon. Dandin ("Dandin")

1. Mudrarakshasa 2. Kavyadarsana 3. Mrichchhakatika 4. Amarkosha (A) (a)-3 (b)-1 (c)-2 (d)-4 (B) (a)-3 (b)-4 (c)-2 (d)-1 (C) (a)-2 (b)-3 (c)-4 (d)-1 (D) (a)-4 (b)-2 (c)-1 (d)-3			was a renowned Sanskrit poetician and author of "Kavyadarsa" (Kavyadarsana), a foundational treatise on Sanskrit poetics. Vishakhadatta authored "Mudrarakshasa", a historical political drama about Chanakya's machinations to secure the Mauryan throne for Chandragupta. Matching each author to their work gives (a)-3, (b)-4, (c)-2, (d)-1, so option (B) is correct.
