5	Which of the following statements are true about Thanthai Periyar? (i) When the Justice party renamed as Dravidar Kazhagam, Thanthai Periyar introduced the flag featured with red circle in black background. (ii) The flag of Dravida Kazhagam was introduced in Trichy conference. (iii) The red circle represented the revolutionary thoughts. (A) (i) only (B) (i) and (iii) only (C) (i) and (ii) only (D) (ii) and (iii) only	B) (i) and (iii) only	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	In 1944, Periyar E.V. Ramasamy renamed the Justice Party as the Dravidar Kazhagam (DK) and introduced its new flag -- a black background with a red circle -- at the party's conference held in Salem, not Trichy, which makes statement (ii) incorrect. On the flag, the black background symbolised Periyar's rejection of Brahminical religion, God and superstition, while the red circle stood for the revolutionary, radical social-reform ideals of the self-respect movement, making statement (iii) correct. Statement (i) correctly describes the renaming event and the flag's design. So the true statements are (i) and (iii) only, option (B). 35	How death has been compared by Valluvar? (i) Sleep (ii) Meditation (iii) Wisdom (iv) Wake up (A) (i) only (B) (ii) and (iii) (C) (iii) and (iv) (D) (iv) only	A) (i) only	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	In the Thirukkural chapter on the impermanence of life (Nilaiyaamai), Valluvar draws the famous analogy that dying is like falling asleep, and being born again is like waking up from that sleep - a couplet often paraphrased as 'sleep is a little death, and waking is a little birth'. Since the question specifically asks how Valluvar compares death (not birth), the matching image is Sleep; 'wake up' in the same couplet is the image used for birth/rebirth, not death, so only (i) is correct. Azhagar Kovil hills (near Madurai) preserve ancient rock-cut Jain (Samanar) monastic beds with Tamil-Brahmi inscriptions, effectively an early 'school'/settlement of Jain ascetics, matching (2). The Keezhadi excavations (Sivagangai) produced the widely publicised discovery of a dog's paw-print impressed on a burnt brick, matching (3). Porunthal (near Palani, a megalithic Iron Age site) is notable for burial urns that yielded some of the earliest evidence of paddy/rice grains in South India, matching (1). Adichanallur is India's classic urn-burial site, where the ancestors' remains were placed in large burial pots called 'Mudumakkal Thazhi', matching (4). 37	Reason and Assertion type : Assertion [A] : By a proclamation, Governor James Hope, government abolished the teaching of Hindi as a compulsory subject and released demonstrators from prisons. Reason [R] : In the cause of the agitation 1,200 were jailed, Natarajan and Talamuthu died of police torture and the movement continued till 1939. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) [A] is false but [R] is true (C) [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (D) [A] and [R] are true and [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	C) [A] and [R] are true and [R] is the correct explanation of [A]	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	This refers to the historic Anti-Hindi Agitation (1937-40) in the Madras Presidency, which erupted after C. Rajagopalachari's Congress ministry made Hindi compulsory in schools. The agitation was intense - around 1,200 protestors were jailed, and two agitators, Natarajan and Thalamuthu, died in prison reportedly due to police brutality, keeping the movement alive through 1939. It was precisely the scale of this popular resistance and the resulting deaths/mass arrests that forced the government (after the Congress ministries resigned and the Governor took direct charge) to issue a proclamation withdrawing compulsory Hindi and releasing the detained protestors. So the intensity and course of the agitation described in R is the genuine underlying cause/explanation of the concession described in A. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true; and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false, [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	correct explanation of [A]	Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	Brahmin Manifesto in 1916, which criticised Brahmin domination of public life and the Congress movement and argued for separate representation for non-Brahmin communities. Because this directly challenged and split from the Congress-led national movement of the time, the Indian National Congress branded Theagaraya Chetty and the Justice Party leadership as 'anti-national', accusing them of weakening the freedom struggle by aligning with colonial interests. Since the manifesto is exactly what triggered the Congress's anti-national label, R correctly explains A. 39	Choose the right matches among type (1) The Samarasa Suddha Sanmargha Sathiya Sangam - 1865 (2) The Sathiya Dharumasalai - 1867 (3) The Sathiya Gnana Sabai - 1874 (4) Samarasa Veda Padasalai - 1875 (A) (1) and (3) are correct (B) (1) and (2) are correct (C) (2) and (3) are correct (D) (3) and (4) are correct	B) (1) and (2) are correct	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	Vallalar (Ramalinga Swamigal), the Tamil Nadu saint-reformer who preached universal compassion and social equality, founded the Samarasa Suddha Sanmarga Sathiya Sangam at Vadalur in 1865 to spread his philosophy of oneness of all beings, and soon after, in 1867, he established the Sathiya Dharumasalai, a free feeding house that fed the poor without distinction of caste or religion - both dates match the options given. His other major institution, the Sathya Gnana Sabai (Hall of True Wisdom), was actually consecrated in 1872, not 1874, and the Samarasa Veda Patasalai was set up even earlier, so pairs (3) and (4) carry incorrect years, leaving only (1) and (2) correct. 41	Aavirkku Neerendru Irappinum _____ Ill. What is the message got through this Kural? (1) Do not do charity by begging, try and	A) (1) is correct	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	This Kural, from the Thirukkural chapter dealing with begging/self-respect, uses the image of a person hesitating even to beg for something as small as water for a cow, to stress the disgrace attached to begging and the corresponding virtue of earning through one's own effort before giving charity. Its intended teaching is that one work hard and do charity. (2) It is a virtue to live without hurting other beings. (3) Showing kindness and compassion to other beings. (4) Charity is to give unto those who are really in need. (A) (1) is correct (B) (2) and (3) are correct (C) (3) is correct (D) (4) is correct			should not depend on begging to perform acts of charity; instead a person should work hard and earn, and only then give charitably from one's own effort - matching option (1). The other options describe general Kural teachings on non-violence and compassion found elsewhere in the text (the Aram/virtue chapters), but they are not the specific message of this particular couplet about begging. 42	Which is the part in Kalithogai that talks about taming bulls? (1) Paalai Kali (2) Kurinji Kali (3) Mullai Kali (4) Marutha Kali (A) (1) and (2) correct (B) (2) and (4) correct (C) Only (3) correct (D) Only (4) correct	C) Only (3) correct	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	Kalithogai, one of the Sangam anthologies, organises its poems by the five thinais (landscapes) of Sangam poetics, and its Mullai Kali section deals with the pastoral/forest tract associated with cowherd (Ayar) life and cattle-rearing themes, including episodes of bull-taming (eru thazhuvudhal), the ancestor of today's Jallikattu, most famously linked to the Krishna-Nappinnai bull-taming legend. Paalai Kali (desert/separation theme), Kurinji Kali (hill/union theme) and Marutha Kali (agricultural/infidelity theme) deal with different landscape-specific human emotions and do not centre on bull-taming, so only Mullai Kali (3) is correct. 43	Who hailed Kalingathu Barani as "Thenthamizh Deiva Bharani"? (A) Kambar (B) Avvaiyaar (C) Ottakkooththar (D) Pugazhendhi Pulavar	C) Ottakkooththar	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	Kalingathupparani is the first work of the 'Parani' genre to appear in Tamil, one of the ninety-six kinds of chittrilakkiyam (minor literature); composed in the kalithaazhisai metre in 599 thaazhisai verses, it celebrates the Kalinga war victory of Kulothunga Chola I and his commander Karunakara Thondaiman. Its author was Jayamkondar (Seyangondar) of Deepangudi, the court poet of Kulothunga Chola I, whom Palapattadai Chokkanatha Pulavar honoured as 'Paranikkor Seyangondar' ('Seyangondar, the man for the Parani'). It was Ottakkooththar - the Chola court poet who was a contemporary of Kambar and who composed Moovarula, Thakkayagapparani and the Uttara Kadam - who praised Jayamkondar's work as the 'Thenthamizh Deiva Bharani' ('the divine Parani of the sweet southern Tamil land'). Kambar, the author of the Kamba Ramayanam, had no part in this tribute, and Ottakkooththar was the admirer of the Parani, not its author. Hence the answer is (C) Ottakkooththar. 44	Nandi Kalambagam Manda Kadhai Nadu ariyum Where was the line taken from and who was the author of this poem? (A) Nandi Kalambagam - Author unknown (B) Moodhumozhi Venba - Somaicher (C) Deiva ula - Seraman Perumal Nayanar (D) Thondar Artrupadai - R. Elangkumaran	A) Nandi Kalambagam - Author unknown	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	The quoted line itself is drawn from the Nandikalambagam, a Pandya-era Tamil literary work in the Kalambagam genre that praises a king referred to as 'Nandi'; unusually for a work of such literary standing, the identity of its author has never been conclusively established and is recorded in Tamil literary history as unknown. Since the poem named in the question and the correctly matched work in option (A) are the same text, and the 'author unknown' status is the historically accepted fact about it, (A) is the correct pairing; the other options wrongly attribute named authors to different classical works (Moodhumozhi Venba, Deiva Ula, Thondar Atrupadai) that do not match this particular quotation. 60	Which of the following statement(s) is / are true about the Madurai Bench of the Madras High Court? (i) It was started functioning on 24th June 2004. (ii) It was inaugurated by the Chief Justice of India, R.C. Vijaya Kamalesh Tahil Ramani. (iii) The Madurai Bench Currently (2026) covers 14 Judicial districts.	C) (iii) only	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	The Madurai Bench of the Madras High Court actually began functioning on 24 July 2004 (not June), so statement (i) misstates the month and is incorrect. It was inaugurated by the then Chief Justice of India, Justice V.N. Khare - Justice Vijaya Kamlesh Tahilramani was only ever Chief Justice of the Madras High Court (2018-19) and later of Meghalaya High Court, never Chief Justice of India, so statement (ii) wrongly conflates her with the CJI and is false. The Madurai Bench today serves the southern districts of Tamil Nadu, and among the given options only statement (iii), that it covers a defined set of

	(A) (i) only (B) (i) and (iii) only (C) (iii) only (D) (iii) and (ii) only			judicial districts, is left standing as accurate, so the best-supported answer is (C), 'iii only' - flagged here as the precise district count is difficult to verify beyond doubt from the given options.
82	Assertion [A] : What is virtue? It is not to kill, for killing causes every ill. Reason [R] : All virtues the most excellent is non-killing. Next to that, the best is not lying. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true; and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true; but [R] is not correct explanation of [A] is correct	B) Both [A] and [R] are true; and [R] is the correct explanation of [A]	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	This is a paired couplet from the Thirukkural chapter on Not Killing (Kollamai, Kural 321-322 in G.U. Pope's translation), where Valluvar first poses virtue as the avoidance of killing since killing brings every misery (Assertion), and immediately follows with the justification that among all virtues non-killing is supreme, and next best is truthfulness/non-lying (Reason). Both statements are authentic and consecutive lines of the same Kural passage, and the Reason is precisely Valluvar's own explanation for why non-killing is identified as virtue in the Assertion, so [R] correctly explains [A]. This makes option (B) the correct choice. Source: Class 6 Tamil, Term 3 Unit 2 "திருக்குறள்" (கொல்லாமை)
83	How can one feels or know about love according to Valluvar? (A) Money (B) Expensive Material (C) Tears (D) Good Food	C) Tears	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	In the Thirukkural chapter on Anbudaimai (The Possession of Love), Valluvar states that love, being an inward, intangible bond, cannot be locked away or hidden; it reveals itself outwardly through the tears that well up in a loving person's eyes when they feel for another's suffering (Kural 71, the opening kural of that chapter: 'Anbirkum undo adaikkum thazh, aarvalar pungan neer poosal tharum'). Tears are thus presented as the visible proof of an otherwise invisible emotion, making 'Tears' the textually correct answer rather than any material possession like money, expensive goods, or food. 84	Who is the Disciple(s) of Pattinathar? (1) Idaikattu Siddhar (2) Pathirakiriyar	A) Option (2) only correct	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political	Pattinathar, the wealthy merchant of Kaveripoompattinam who renounced worldly life to become a Siddhar-poet, is traditionally recorded as the guru of Pathirakiriyar (also

	(3) Pambatti Siddhar (4) Agappei Siddhar (A) Option (2) only correct (B) Option (1) and (3) only correct (C) Option (2) and (4) only correct (D) Option (1) and (4) only correct		Movements in Tamil Nadu	called Bhadrakiriyar) - a former king of Kongu Nadu who gave up his throne to become Pattinathar's ascetic disciple and later composed the devotional verse collection Meignana Pulambal. Idaikattu Siddhar, Pambatti Siddhar and Agappei Siddhar are all counted among the traditional group of Eighteen Siddhars of Tamil Nadu, but they are not recorded as direct disciples of Pattinathar specifically. Hence only option (2), Pathirakiriyar, is the correct disciple, making (A) the answer.
85	The Military General, who suppressed the Vellore Mutiny was _____. (A) George Carmichael Smyth (B) Colonel Robert Rollo Gillespie (C) John Nicholson (D) William Hodson	B) Colonel Robert Rollo Gillespie	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	The Vellore Mutiny of 10 July 1806 was one of the earliest organised uprisings by Indian sepoys against the East India Company, triggered by new dress regulations seen as an attack on religious and caste customs; the sepoys briefly seized Vellore Fort and killed many British soldiers. Colonel Robert Rollo Gillespie, then stationed at nearby Arcot, rushed his cavalry to Vellore and suppressed the mutiny within hours by recapturing the fort, for which he became well known in colonial military history. George Carmichael Smyth was actually the officer whose dress-code order provoked the mutiny, not the one who suppressed it, while Nicholson and Hodson belong to a later era (the 1857 revolt), making Gillespie the correct answer. 86	What are the causes for the defeat of Justice Party in the Madras Legislative Assembly Elections - 1937? (i) The Justice Party could not match the new methods employed by the Congress. (ii) The hostility of the press towards Justice Party. (iii) The emotional appeal for Poorna	C) (i), (iii) and (iv) only	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	The Justice Party, which had ruled Madras Presidency almost continuously from 1921, was routed by the Congress in the 1937 elections. Standard accounts of this defeat point to the Congress's superior new mass-contact campaign methods that the ageing, elite-dominated Justice Party could not match, the Congress's emotionally resonant call for Poorna Swaraj (complete independence) which stirred nationalist sentiment across the electorate, and internal splits within the non-Brahmin movement itself - notably the Raja of Pithapuram's People's Party

	Swaraj by the Congress. (iv) The entry of people's party of Maharaja of Pithapuram as a third force. (A) (i) and (iii) only (B) (i), (ii) and (iv) only (C) (i), (iii) and (iv) only (D) (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv)			breaking away as a rival 'third force' and dividing the anti-Congress vote. Press hostility is not typically cited among the primary textbook reasons for the 1937 defeat, so the correct combination is (i), (iii) and (iv), i.e., option (C). S. S. Rajan served as its President from 1932 to 1935, while the Gandhian educationist G. Ramachandran (later founder of Gandhigram) served as its Provincial Secretary for Tamil Nadu and Kerala, and C. Rajagopalachari, though a leading Congress figure of the province, held the position of ordinary member on this particular committee. This gives the mapping (a) C. Rajagopalachari = Member (2), (b) G. Ramachandran = Secretary (3), (c) T. S. S. Rajan = President (1), i.e., sequence 2, 3, 1, which is option (B).

89	Name the author of Usliaparinayam, a Telugu work which mention about the grant of Madrasapatnam to English in 1639 A.D. (A) Raja Ram (B) Anka Bhubala (C) Ravi Ram (D) Tulasi	B) Anka Bhubala	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	In 1639, Damarla Venkatadri Nayaka, the Vijayanagar-appointed Nayak chief of the region, granted the coastal village of Madraspatnam to the English East India Company officials Francis Day and Andrew Cogan, leading to the founding of Fort St. George and later the city of Madras (Chennai). This episode is recorded in the Telugu poetic work Usha Parinayamu, composed by Ankabhupala (also rendered Anka Bhubala), a royal Telugu court poet of the Damarla Nayaka family and younger brother of Damarla Venkatappa and Ayyappa Nayaka, who dedicated the poem to his father, Chennappa Nayaka. Pariperumal and Parithiyar are both authentic historical Kural commentators from this list. Perumal Murugan is a contemporary (21st-century) Tamil novelist unrelated to classical Kural commentary, and 'Abdul Raguman' does not figure among the recognised traditional commentators, so the correct pair is (1) and (4), option (C). Both the specific incident (Assertion) and the underlying sentiment about the supreme joy of classical Tamil (Reason) are part of the same traditional account and are treated as true within Tamil literary history, so option (B), both true, is correct. V.O. Chidambaranar, popularly called 'Kappalottiya Thamizhan' for starting the Swadeshi Steam Navigation Company, was born at Ottapidaram, also in Thoothukudi district (4). 109	Which of the following is incorrectly paired? (1) Bismilla Khan - Tabla (2) T.N. Krishnan - Violinist	B) (1) and (3)	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	Ustad Bismillah Khan was the legendary Shehnai (Shenoi) maestro who famously played at India's independence celebrations, not a tabla player, so pairing (1) is wrong. Zakir Hussain, on the other hand, is one of India's most

T.N. Krishnan is indeed a celebrated Carnatic violinist (2) and Pandit Ravi Shankar is world-famous for the Sitar (4), so those pairs are correct. The incorrectly paired items are therefore (1) and (3), option (B).

In Tamil Nadu, Khilafat Day was observed on 17 April 1920 with a meeting presided over by Maulana Shaukat Ali; another conference was later held at Erode, and Vaniyambadi became a major centre of Khilafat agitation in the region. The Reason explains that hearing/listening is a particularly refined faculty and central to effective learning - also a well-recognised pedagogical truth, so [R] is true. Since Annadurai ('Perarignar Anna'), who began as a close associate of Periyar in the Dravidian/Self-Respect Movement before founding the DMK, was a rationalist who consistently criticised superstition and orthodox ritualism rather than upholding Hindu Dharma principles - so statement (i) is false. He was vocal against social evils and cruelties committed in the name of religion (such as caste-based discrimination and untouchability), and he strongly opposed the social and political domination of Brahmins that the non-Brahmin movement was built to counter. The Self-Respect Movement later merged with the Justice Party and was re-christened the Dravidar Kazhagam ('Dravidian League'/Federation) in 1944 - the last of these four events. Ordering by year (1926, then the Madurai conference, 1929, 1944) gives (1), (4), (3), (2), option (D); the exact date of the Madurai non-Brahmin conference could not be independently verified, so this ordering is the best-supported one.

(A) (I) and (II) are correct (B) (II) and (IV) are correct (C) (II) and (III) are correct (D) (I), (II) and (IV) are correct	C) (II) and (III) are correct	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	The Vellore Revolt (sometimes called the Vellore Mutiny), one of the earliest organised uprisings by Indian sepoys against the East India Company, actually broke out on 10 July 1806 - not 1801 - so statement (I) is false. After the Fourth Anglo-Mysore War (1799) ended in Tipu Sultan's defeat and death, his family and dependents were indeed confined at Vellore Fort, whose presence contributed to the unrest among sepoys, making statement (II) true. Lord William Bentinck was Governor of Madras from 1803 to 1807 and held that office at the time of the revolt, making statement (III) true as well. However, the revolt was swiftly and brutally suppressed by British troops rather than resulting in any 'victory' for the rebels, so statement (IV) is false. Valluvar's rule for choosing a man for office is that he may be relied upon only after his conduct has been examined in four respects - Aram (will he abandon virtue?), Porul (can wealth sway him?), Inbam (can sensual pleasure sway him?) and Uyir-achcham (will fear for his own life make him yield?). The four things the kural names are therefore Aram, Porul, Inbam and Uyir-achcham. Veeduperu (liberation) belongs to the four traditional goals of life but is not one of the four tests named here, and the Thirukkural itself is divided into only three books - Arathuppal, Porutpal and Kaamathuppal. Hence the answer is (B) Aram, Porul, Inbam, Uyiracham. Source: Class 9 Tamil, Thirukkural section, Adhikaram 51 "தெரிந்து தெளிதல்"
142	Which of the following statements are true about palm leaves? (i) When writing on palm leaves, it is not customary to place a dot over consonants or a full stop at the end of a sentence. (ii) In inscriptions, a full stop is usually placed at the end of sentence. (iii) On some palm leaves, a vertical line is used to indicate the end of a sentence instead of a full stop. (A) (i) only (B) (i) and (ii) only (C) (i) and (iii) only (D) (ii) and (iii) only	C) (i) and (iii) only	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	Traditional Tamil palm-leaf manuscript (olai suvadi) writing generally did not use punctuation conventions such as a dot over consonants (to mark a 'pulli'/virama-like distinction) or a full stop at sentence end - scribes relied on spacing and context instead, so statement (i) is true. Stone and copper-plate inscriptions of the period similarly lacked a standard 'full stop' punctuation mark, so statement (ii), which claims the opposite, is false. However, some palm-leaf traditions did use a vertical stroke or line as a sentence-end marker in place of a full stop, making statement (iii) true. Hence (i) and (iii) only are correct, option (C). Pope (B) Robert Caldwell (C) St. Thomas (D) Kamala Das	B) Robert Caldwell	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	Bishop Robert Caldwell (1814-1891), a missionary-linguist who worked in the Tirunelveli region, wrote "A Comparative Grammar of the Dravidian or South-Indian Family of Languages" (1856), the foundational work that scientifically established Tamil, Telugu, Kannada, Malayalam and related languages as belonging to a distinct Dravidian family, independent of Sanskrit. This scholarship directly supported the view that Tamil developed on its own rather than being derived from Sanskrit, an idea later central to the Dravidian and Self-Respect movements' pride in Tamil. In recognition of this contribution, a statue of Robert Caldwell stands on Marina Beach, Chennai, alongside other language and literary figures. G.U. Pope was another missionary-scholar known for translating Tamil classics like the Tirukkural into English, but the specific grammar and the "independent development" claim belong to Caldwell, so option (B) is correct. This praise is traditionally associated with Cheran Senguttuvan, one of the most celebrated Chera kings of the Sangam period, renowned in the Silappadikaram tradition for his military campaigns to the Himalayas and for consecrating the Pattini (Kannagi) cult temple. The other names listed - Uthiyan Cheralathan, Kalankaykanni Narmudicheral and Imayavarambar Nedum Cheralathan - are also historical Chera kings mentioned in Sangam literature (Padirruppattu) but are associated with

The pairs in items (i) and (ii) have these two names swapped - Cherar is wrongly paired with Chempiyan (which belongs to the Cholas) and Chozhar is wrongly paired with Bhuzhi (which belongs to the Cheras) - making both incorrect. The Pandiyar-Gowriyar and Kathyanam-Pondu pairings in (iii) and (iv) are the correctly recorded traditional associations. Hence option (C), (i) and (ii) only incorrect, is correct. Ramasamy convened a special conference at Erode on 23 October 1948 and invited Perarignar Anna (C.N. Annadurai) to preside over it, a meeting significant in the run-up to the eventual split between the Dravidar Kazhagam and the breakaway group that became the DMK - so Assertion [A] is true. It is also recorded that the popular Tamil cinema comedian N.S. Krishnan, who was closely associated with the Dravidian movement, sang the invocation song at this conference - so Reason [R] is true as a fact about the event. However, who sang the opening invocation song is simply an incidental detail of the conference's proceedings and does not explain why Periyar convened the conference or why he asked Anna to preside, explanation of [A]			so [R] does not serve as the explanation for [A]. Hence option (D) is correct.

The pairings of Dr. Navalar with Puduvazhvu and K.A. Mathiyazhagan with Thennagam do not match the well-attested editor-magazine associations for those two names. Because this is a fairly obscure piece of regional press history, readers are encouraged to verify the exact editor-magazine pairings against a specialised source if certainty is required, but based on the thematic fit of the titles, option (D), pairs (3) and (4), is the best-supported answer.
189	Reason and Assertion Type. Assertion [A] : According to Perarignar Anna resolution members should renounce titles such as Sir, Diwan. Reason [R] : Members should drop the existing titles if want they can append them to names in future. (A) [A] is true but [R] is false (B) Both [A] and [R] are true, and [R] is the correct explanation of [A] (C) [A] is false, [R] is true (D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	D) Both [A] and [R] are true, but [R] is not the correct explanation of [A]	Unit VI - History, Culture, Heritage and Socio-Political Movements in Tamil Nadu	As part of the Self-Respect and Dravidian movement's rejection of colonial-era honorifics and hierarchical titles, Perarignar Anna moved a resolution asking members of the movement to give up British-conferred titles such as "Sir" and "Diwan Bahadur", which is what Assertion [A] states, and this is historically accurate. It is also true, as a practical detail of how the resolution was implemented, that members were told to drop their existing titles immediately but were left free to resume using such titles later if they personally wished to, which is what Reason [R] describes. However, [R] is only a procedural clarification about implementation, not the underlying reasoning (rejection of colonial hierarchy and promotion of self-respect and equality) that explains why the resolution was passed in the first place, so it does not correctly explain [A]. Hence option (D) is correct.

Class 10 Social Science, History Unit 9 states that 'In 1904 Nilakanta Brahmachari and others started Bharata Matha Society, a secret society', whose object was to kill British officials and thereby kindle patriotic fervour among the people; it was this organisation that influenced Vanchinathan of Senkottai, who shot dead Robert W. D'E. Ashe, Collector of Tirunelveli, at Maniyachi Junction on 17 June 1911. So (c) must be matched with 2 - Bharatha Matha Sangam - and option (A) is the only code that does this. The other three follow: P.S. Kumarasamy Raja, the Gandhian freedom fighter from Aruppukkottai who became Chief Minister of Madras State, is associated with the Meenakshi Sahaya Viveka Vidyalayam, giving (a)-4; Subramaniya Siva, the ardent nationalist who joined V.O. The crow-defeating-the-owl-by-day example illustrates that even a weaker being can prevail if it acts at the right time (day versus night), which is exactly the theme of Kaalam Arithal, so statement (i) belongs to that chapter. The crocodile-in-water-versus-land example and the ship-cannot-sail-on-land/chariot-cannot-run-on-sea example both illustrate that power or suitability depends on the right place/setting rather than the right time, so statements (ii) and (iii) actually belong to the separate

"Sivagnana Bodham", the foundational philosophical text of Saiva Siddhanta composed by Meikandar in the 13th century, systematised the doctrine after these two earlier works. "Kodikavi" is a later composition, coming after these three. Arranged in order of composition, the sequence is Thiruvundhiyar, Thirukkalitruppadiyar, Sivagnana Bodham, Kodikavi, i.e. (3),(2),(1),(4), so option (A) is correct. Matching each Tamil term to its Sanskrit counterpart gives (a)-4, (b)-1, (c)-2, (d)-3, so option (A) is correct.
